ETK

by AURES Konnect

Designed and developed by AURES Konnect to anticipate and meet the requirements of omni-channel retail and the digitalization of the customer journey, ETK (Easy to Konnect) is an exclusive and universal Middleware platform for point of sale and customer facing applications, supporting the retail, food & beverage, hospitality, entertainment, sport & leisure, travel and service sectors.

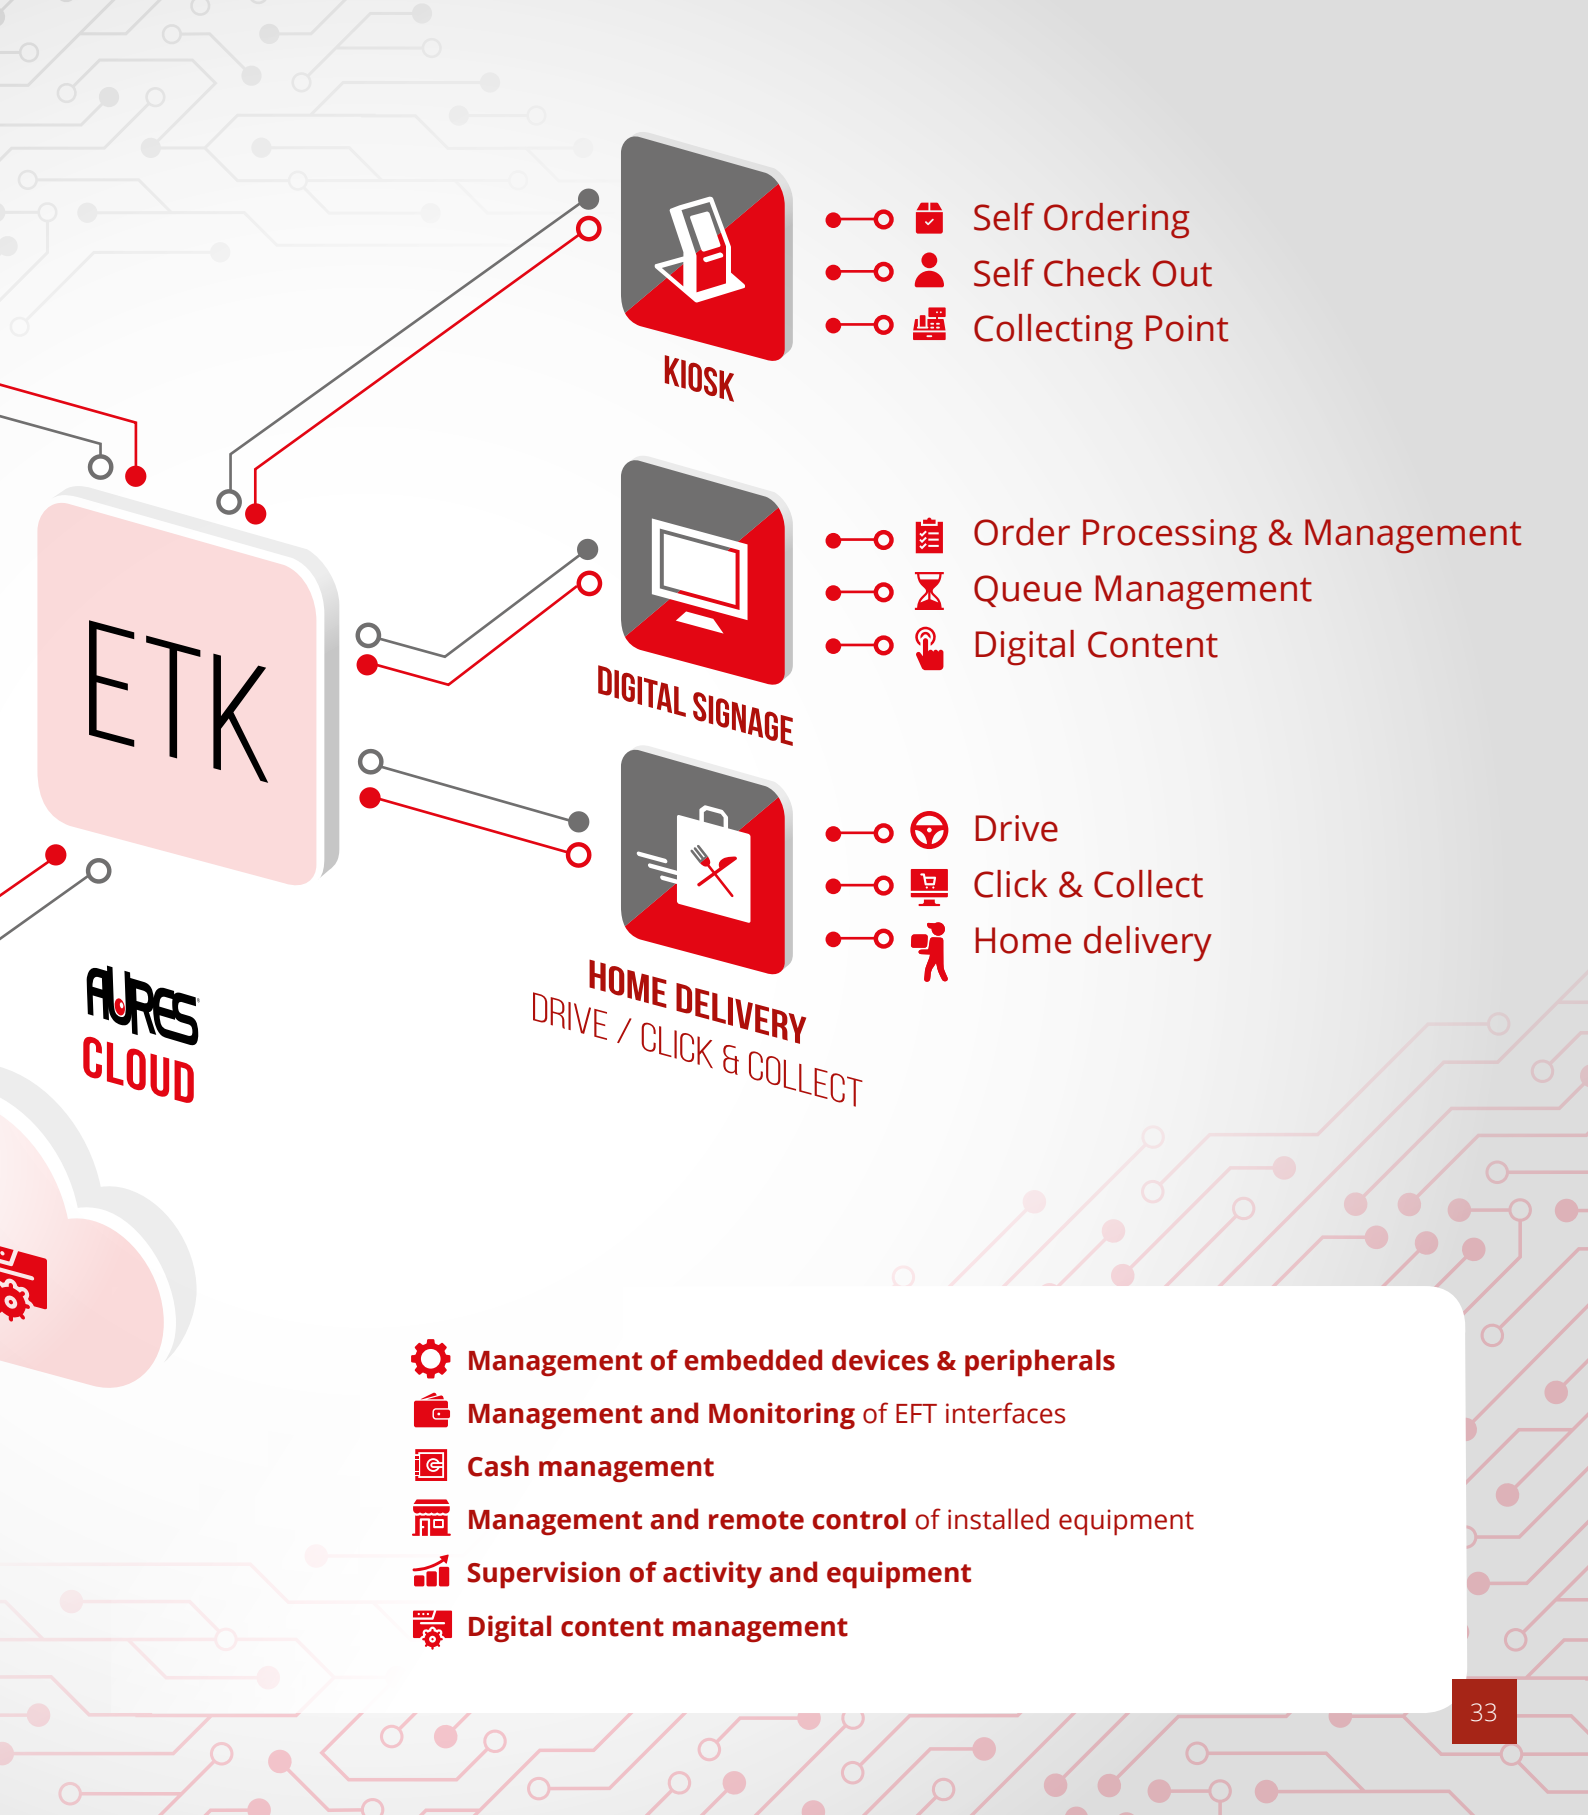

Its purpose is to interconnect all point-of sale and customer touchpoints with the AURES Group's existing range of products which includes world leading POS terminals and systems, tablets, Mobile POS and interactive, multifunction Kiosks. The platform also enables other external technical products such as payment terminals, digital signage and operational screens, to be linked together.

A truly "integrated engine" located at the heart of your technical infrastructure, the ETK Middleware is flexible and scalable. It can adapt to your present and future needs, allowing the total connectivity of all your software and hardware solutions. This is achieved through specific dedicated application programming interfaces (documentation and API) allowing standardised interaction between two software platforms.

These APIs will work both with existing partner software solutions or new applications developed by the AURES Konnect team.
